Fatal Auto Accident on North Main

Miss Bernice Albright Killed, Four Others Injured

A happy Christmas gathering of relatives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund F. Vos of North Main street, ended in tragedy at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday.

As the guests were leaving, their car was struck by a fast moving automobile with the result that Miss Bernice Albright, 62, of Commonwealth hotel, 2757 Pine Grove ave., Chicago, was fatally injured, her father, William E. Albright of Bay City, Michigan, was critically injured, and her brother, Dr. Bernard E. Albright, 59, of 609 Michigan ave., Chicago, and his wife, Dorothy, a sister of Mrs. Edmund Vos, were hurt, but not seriously.

All four were taken by the Antioch Rescue squad to Victory Memorial hospital where Miss Albright died at 12:55 a. m. from head and other internal injuries.

The elder Mr. Albright suffered an amputation of the right foot and Dr. and Mrs. Albright were badly cut and bruised.

The driver, Mrs. Dorothy Albright, backed the car into the street ready to go south toward Chicago, when coming from the north was the car of Edward Williams, 35, Venetian Village, who crashed into the side of the Albright car towards the rear where Miss Albright and her father were seated. After striking the Albright car, Williams' car ran 70 feet farther and crashed into a Public Service utility pole, breaking it off.

Williams too was taken to the hospital by the rescue squad.

The funeral service of Miss Albright was held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at a chapel in Watseka, Ill., and burial was there.

The elder Mr. Albright is making satisfactory progress toward recovery, and Dr. and Mrs. Albright were greatly improved.

John F. Schmidt, 80, Of Felter's Subdivision Dies After Long Illness

John F. Schmidt, 80, Felter's Subdivision, died Sunday at 5:15 a. m. at the Lake County T. B. Sanitarium, following a year's illness. He was born April 2, 1877 in Chicago, residing there until moving to Antioch in 1949. He was a member St. Peter's church. He was united in marriage with Miss Frances McDermott on October 16, 1906 in Chicago, celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1956.

He was a retired employee of the Benjamin Moore Paint Company, where he had worked for 38 years.

Survivors are his wife Frances, two sons, Robert H. Sr., and Francis J., both of Chicago, one sister, Mrs. Sophie Timmick of Des Plaines and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Thursday at St. Peter's church. Interment will be in Mt. Carmel cemetery. Friends may call at the Strang Funeral home after 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Frank Benes, janitor at the Glass Lake Grade school on Grass Lake road, reported to police Thursday that sometime on Sunday or Monday someone shot holes in four windows.

Movement to Obtain Forest Preserve District Gains Momentum After Libertyville Meeting

A movement to establish a Forest Preserve District in Lake County started in the southern part of the county is gradually moving northward toward Antioch.

A meeting was held Monday, Dec. 16 at the American Legion hall in Libertyville under call of Guy Grinnell, supervisor of Libertyville township, at the suggestion of Mrs. Frank Untermyer, Frank Peers, chairman of the advisory committee of the Board of Supervisors, Dr. Julian Steyermark, curator of herbarium of the Chicago Natural History Museum, and Stanley Grosshandler, chairman of the Lake County Planning Commission.

Dr. Steyermark declared the people of thickly populated areas need forest retreats and public picnicking and camping grounds.

"There is no more basic physical opportunity for maintaining a spiritual peace of mind than the natural flora and fauna which the earth pro-

Extra State Police Will Aid in Holiday Travel Over New Years

"Motorists in Illinois will be assisted in their holiday travel this week by the largest force of State Highway Police ever amassed for holiday accident prevention activities, Governor William G. Stratton said.

In a summary of enforcement measures planned for the holiday period, Joseph D. Bibb, director of the Department of Public Safety, assured the governor of "the fullest measure of activity in traffic control and supervision available to the motoring public."

In issuing orders to his men, State Police Chief William H. Morris canceled all days off and placed the almost 1,000-man force on an emergency stand-by to be prepared to cope with the expected problems of traffic control. Troopers have been instructed to arrest every law violator they observe, with particular attention to speeders and drunken drivers.

"Everything possible is being done to protect motorists from their own shortcomings," Morris said. "The rest is up to them. We ask only that drivers operate their vehicles within requirements of the law and use the utmost courtesy toward each other."

Mrs. Frank Sidley and Son Killed in Car By Train

Mrs. Frank Sidley, 43, and her eight year old son, Gregory, of Downers Grove were killed by a train on the North Western tracks near Elmhurst, Saturday. Mrs. Sidley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bock, former residents of Antioch. Mrs. Sidley (nee Alice Bock), attended Antioch Township High school.

The car in which they were riding was driven by Mrs. H. E. Miller, a neighbor of the Sidleys. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Sidley got out of the car and Mrs. Sidley was trying to get her son out of the back seat when the train crashed into the car.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday at Downers Grove.

Fined for Traffic Fault

Mrs. Kathleen Lawrey, Salem, Wis., was fined $10 and costs by Police Magistrate E. Elmer Brook Friday evening for failing to yield the right of way. She pulled down a curb on Broadway and struck the car of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Worst of Spring Grove, damaging a fender.

New Year's Eve To Be Quieter Than Usual Here

Safety on Highway is Chief Concern of Public This Year

Celebration of New Year's has one chief concern this year and that is safety on the highways.

While taverns of the area are offering food, drink, and entertainment, they too are concerned that there is careful driving throughout the day and night. Hosts at private parties have the same wish.

Not too much is planned for Antioch in the way of New Year's eve celebration. Members of the Antioch Fire department will entertain their wives and members of the Rescue Squad and their wives at an annual dinner party.

Members of the Old Time Dance club will have their annual New Year's eve dance at Wesley hall.

A few private parties of groups of young people are planned, but the watch-night services of some church groups have been abandoned this year.

At St. Peter's church there will be confessions Tuesday from 4 to 4:45 and 7:30 to 9 p. m., and there will be masses on New Year's Day at 6, 7:30, 9, 10, and 11 a. m.

The two-week holiday of the schools moved rapidly and the schools will open again Thursday. The snow over the week-end, first of any magnitude this winter for Antioch, gave the children opportunity to try out their new sleds.

On shallow ponds there is ice skating but on the lakes the ice is not thick enough for safety, and the stay-off warning extends for a few days yet.

Many of the children will be permitted to remain up to see the New Year in. The old folks will take their celebration synthetically by watching television or listening to the radio.

Donald Curnes, 54, Of Lake Villa, Dies

Donald Curnes, 54, residing south of Lake Villa, died Sunday morning at St. Therese hospital after a two-year illness.

His survivors include his wife, Mary, three daughters, Mrs. Betty Hall of Lake Villa, Mrs. Donna Brown of Round Lake, and Mrs. Bernice Hertel of Lake Villa; six grandchildren, seven brothers, and a sister.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the Strang Chapel in Grayslake.

Woman's Club Plans White Elephant Party

The Antioch Woman's club will meet at 1 p. m. Monday, Jan. 6, for a pot luck luncheon at the Scout House. This will be a "Lemon party". Members will bring lemons or white elephants for a silent auction. The hostess committee are Mrs. Clarence Kufalk, Mrs. Ray Bruhn, Mrs. M. C. Cain, Mrs. Morris Pickus, Mrs. David Nissen, Mrs. Gus Mantis, Mrs. A. M. Stanich and Mrs. Richard Carlucci.

Now there's a paper for lining shelves and drawers treated with an odorless insecticide that bowls over bugs, is harmless to food.

Raid of Bookie at Bussie's Tavern Made by State's Atty. T. J. Moran

Husband Who Spirited Bride, 13 From Antioch Cited For Ct. Contempt

Carl Gehrke, 18, who last August 30 spirited his child bride away from the home of her aunt, Mrs. Ruth Vanden Bosch of Antioch, where she had been placed by the court pending annulment of the marriage, is back at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Gehrke, 1625 Circa st., Des Plaines.

The elder Mr. Gehrke disclosed that the daughter-in-law, Jane, is expecting a baby in April.

Jane Kanzler was but 13 years old when she and Carl Gehrke eloped and were married in Herndon, Miss.

On their return, the girl's parents took court action to have the marriage annulled.

Gehrke was cited for contempt by Judge Edward B. Casey in Superior Court, Chicago, for violating an injunction issued Aug. 14 by Samuel B. Epstein enjoining Gehrke from living with his bride while the annulment suit was pending.

Paddock Lake Man Dies From Car Exhaust

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m. Friday in the Bruch Funeral Home, Kenosha, for Harold L. Sturgeon, 33, of R.F.D. 1, Salem, Wis. (Paddock Lake), who was found dead in a car at his home garage at 4 a. m. Wednesday.

Coroner William Rauwen of Kenosha county, said that death definitely was the result of carbon monoxide gas poisoning, but would not say whether it was accidental or suicidal.

Sturgeon's daughter heard him go to the garage about 10 p. m. and start the car. The left front window of the car was open and the door of the garage shut.

Traffic Death Dec. 25 Fourth in Village History

The death of Miss Bernice Albright from the automobile collision on North Main street Christmas evening is the third traffic accident in Antioch through which a total of four persons have died.

Back in 1949 Mrs. Della Duckwitz was killed when she was struck by a car as she was crossing Main street at Depot street.

On Sept. 23, 1953, Elmer Hawkins and Frank Pitner, the latter of Fox Lake, were killed when their car was struck by a Soo Line train at the Depot street crossing.

No other record of a death inside the village is noted.

Antioch area people who have used Rte. 173 to Skokie Hwy., Rte. 41, have been impressed with the speed at which the toll road there has been progressing. The supports for the overpass by Rte. 173 are in place and the approaches graded ready for completion in the spring. Already toll road pavement has been laid south of the highway. Motorists are warned against too great a speed on the detour because at the west end there is no banking of the road for the curve and there is danger of going off the pavement down a steep embankment. The danger will be all the greater if there is ice.

Alleged Owners, Operators, Arrested and $2,650 in Cash Confiscated, Patrons Listed And then Released

State's Atty. Thomas Moran and his assistant, Donald Lonchar raided what they said was a horse race betting establishment at the rear of Bussie's Tavern at 899 N. Main St. Saturday afternoon, arresting the operators and confiscating $2,650.

It was the second raid made by the two within a week in Antioch, a slot machine having been confiscated at the Moose Club and destroyed earlier.

According to the two officials, they watched outside the tavern until they saw what appeared to be a doorman, and then followed him through the barroom, through a door into a hall, and through another door into a room where a large number of persons were gathered.

Antioch Host Jan. 4 At 4-Team Tourney; Loses in Grant Semi

Sequoits Beat McHenry, But Are Edged by Warren 63 to 62

The Antioch High School varsity basketball team turned its attention today to the four-team invitational tournament in which it is co-host with Batavia this week-end after succumbing to Warren High in the second round of the Grant tournament which ends tonight.

The Sequoits will play Mooseheart in the first round at Batavia at 7 p. m. Friday, and Grant will play Batavia at 8:30 p. m.

Then the losers will play each other at 7 p. m. and the winners at 8:30 p. m. Saturday here in Antioch.

The Mooseheart and Batavia teams are "strangers" to both, Grant and Antioch so far as ability and style of play. They were scheduled intentionally so that all four will get the experience of playing new teams which occurs in state tournaments and which calls for rapid adjustments.

After beating McHenry 48 to 46 in the first round of play last Thursday night, the Sequoits lost to Warren Friday night 63 to 62.

It was the comeback strength of Antioch that claimed the McHenry game. A second quarter slump saw the Sequoits trailing at the half, 23 to 29 after having finished the first quarter ahead 15-13. A strong man-to-man defense was set up in the third and fourth quarters which cut down the McHenry scoring and permitted Antioch to assume the lead which they never relinquished, although McHenry was never far behind.

Missed Fouls Costly After spotting the Warren Blue Devils a 7-point lead in the first quarter Antioch played Warren on even terms in the second quarter and then forged ahead to a nip-and-tuck battle that saw both teams leading by one point alternately during the last minutes of the game. It just happened that Warren was in the turnabout lead when the final gun sounded.

Antioch scored three more goals from the field than did Warren, but made only 8 of her 17 free throws while the Blue Devils were making 15 of her 20 chances. It was at the free-throw line that Antioch lost the game.

Wayne Herbst Antioch center continued his steady high scoring pace in both games of the tournament, scoring 18 points in the McHenry game and 19 in the game with Warren (continued on page 7)

Co-Captains of Sequoit Varsity

Wayne Herbst, Center

Art Hanke, Forward

Wayne Herbst, center, and Art Hanke, forward, are both strong scoring threats who are leading the Antioch Sequoits to what looks to be a successful season. Herbst is playing varsity basketball his third year. Last year he was selected on the all-conference (Northwest) second team, and was one of the leading scorers in Lake County with a total of 320 points. This year he is leading in the scoring with 170 points, or an average of 19 points for nine games. He is the son of Oscar Herbst of Deep Lake. Hanke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanke of Orchard street, is right behind Herbst as a point maker. Last year his total was 313, and he was given honorable mention in conference selections. So far he has made 135 points in 9 games, an average of 15 points a game.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gaston and daughter Kathleen were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larson of Chicago, Christmas Day.

"I Sat There and Cried"

(Prize Winning Editorial by Carlton Morris)

"I sat there and cried. And that is a sure sign of old age, if there ever was one and I wept over a packet of old newspapers and magazine clippings. I ask you: isn't that a foolish thing for a grown man to do: weep over some old clippings?"

"Some of them dated back six or seven years, and some were fairly new, but they represented seven years, one month and two weeks of my life and that is a pretty good hunk of time any way you look at it.

"I got to reading some of those clippings from newspapers. There was one with the picture of the lad with the 2 x 6 timber stuck through him. I remember that it was on a September Sunday morning that I made that picture. It was 2 a. m. to be exact. I remember how his brother stood over him and wept bitterly in the wee small hours of the night because his car had struck a bridge railing and he was dead, dead, dead, and never again would he see the sun rise and chase away the misty fog on a September morning.

"It was May when I made the picture of the doctor and nurse as they examined the little bloody-faced lad of nine. Now that was one to bring the mist to your eyes, but I remember best the weeping lady who had run him down while he rode his bike beside the highway of life. Like Rachel, she wept for this child and would not be comforted.

"It was early March when I made the picture and wrote the story of the internationally famous New Yorker whose life was slatted out on the highway. I remember the day was cold and miserable and a dreary rain was falling and best of all I remember the lost look of his wife as the officer stood beside her hospital bed and asked her to identify her husband's possessions, late that night. Her back was broken. She broke my heart just a little that night for she said she would not weep for him, for he was bright and happy and never wanted her to be sad and thus she would not weep. She recovered, but I know that part of her died the night her back was broken.

"It was July when the truck loaded with hogs and the truck loaded with white potatoes smashed head on. The two dead men looked bad, but worst of all was the man under the load of potatoes. He was mashed flat as a pancake.

"It was cold winter time with a trace of snow in the air the time the two boys got into a race and one of them landed into the back of a parked truck. He stayed in the smashed auto, but his brains were smeared on the back of the truck. His dad said he was a good boy. I remember my feet almost froze that night as I listened to his kid brother telling about the race. He was riding in the other car and he talked in a strange unemotional tone that usually denotes a state of high shock. He just couldn't realize his brother was gone. Why he only had enough money to buy a couple of gallons of gasoline and now they were cutting the wreckage off him.

I remember the whirling red blinker light of the wrecker that towed away the twisted piece of junk and the deep throated roar of the hearse that carried away the lad who raced with a dollar's worth of gas.

"A spring rain was falling the night I saw the man running down the road to get someone to take his wife to the hospital, and I remember how her face was cut to pieces from the windshield. They said that it took 17 stitches to close the cuts in her face and head after the drunken man smashed into them. I remember how the auto horn sounded a mournful wail on and on like a soul in distress until someone snatched off a wire, choking it off with an abrupt suddenness.

"It was night time when I sat there and cried and to save my life I wasn't sure why I wept. Perhaps it was because of the fleet passage of time. Perhaps it was because seven years seems like a long, long time when you take the trouble to look back, or perhaps it was because of those old clippings that recalled the spring, summer, fall, and winter of this short life.

"I wanted to tell the whole world that cars will kill and maim and cripple, but for seven years I had done that to no avail for no one listened to my story. In the spring and summer and fall and winter I told all who would listen, but they continued on their heedless way.

"Perhaps I wept for those who died and perhaps I wept for those who would not listen as I read those old clippings.

"Death from auto accidents leaves no hamlet, village or city safe. Are we doing everything possible to stop this great danger to ourselves and our children? Speed, it seems, is the major cause of fatal auto accidents. Our village is well equipped to stop speeding. Yes, I know, everyone yells "speed trap" as soon as they are caught violating local speed limits. It seems that speed laws are O. K. for the "other guy" but not for us. Let's all co-operate with local law enforcement officers to make Antioch a safer place in which to live. 1958 can be a safer year for all of us.

Jobs for Millions

One doesn't have to be an economist to appreciate the importance of foreign trade to this country—and to just about everyone in it.

To take one example, more than a fifth of all of America's overseas exports come from farms, and these exports are valued at an eighth of the total farm income. If farm exports should materially decline, the bad effects would be felt throughout agricultural America.

And they wouldn't stop there by any means. As John F. Gehan, president of American Export Lines points out: "Shifts in overseas sales of farm goods create chain reactions that spread quickly throughout the economy. A sharp drop in wheat, corn or dairy exports reflects itself quickly in reduced sales of farm machinery, fertilizers, trucks and consumer goods. Similarly, cutbacks in industrial exports show up in unemployment and a reduced demand for farm products." In other words, it takes the form of a vicious circle, and ultimately touches the whole economy.

It is estimated that foreign trade is creating jobs for more than 4,500,000 people and generating more than $13 billion of income in the form of wages, salaries, wage supplements and fringe benefits. And this trade—in both its export and import phases—is on the increase. There is every sign that it will become a steadily larger factor in our material well-being.

In the light of that, one needn't be an expert to appreciate the need for a big, modern merchant marine flying the U. S. flag. In the current state of the world, it would be folly compounded to depend on the merchant marines of other nations. They could be denied to us overnight, through no fault of their own. We must depend on our own resources in this.

their worst can be.

Today, a 17 per cent increase in the number of diphtheria cases reported since July 1 as compared with the same period last year gives cause for serious comment, even though the actual number of cases was only 310. In 1900, by stark contrast, about 30,000 Americans DIED from this dreadful disease. If the death rate of 1900 had continued unchecked, Health Information Foundation has calculated, diphtheria would have killed 65,000 Americans in 1954. Instead, only 200 people were fatally stricken. Through the efforts of medical research, the development of new drugs, and stringent safeguards of the public health, we have reduced the diphtheria death rate 99 per cent since 1900.

Still, we are only in a state of relative safety as regards this and other fatal communicable diseases, the HNI warned. Our continued existence with these illnesses depends upon endless vigilance.

Diphtheria Can Still Kill Even in 1958

A recent warning by the United States Public Health Service that diphtheria is again on the increase is a pointed reminder that we have contained many infectious diseases, but have actually conquered none.

As the Health News Institute points out in a current report, although it's now the fashion to speak of wiping out communicable diseases, the viruses and bacteria that cause them are still around, still powerful and still ready to do their worst. There's a touch of irony in the fact that, thanks to the protective measures of modern medicine, we have tended to forget what

Decline in Employment Reflected in More Assistance by State

Springfield, Ill.—Decreases in four of the five public aid programs during October were offset by an abnormal upward trend in general assistance, reflected the first effects of the recent drop in industrial employment, Governor William G. Stratton announced today.

In a report to the governor, the Illinois Public Aid Commission said that during October 284,189 persons received $14,040,200 compared to 282,687 receiving $13,672,004 in September. In October 1956, 271,055 persons received $12,849,904.

General assistance rolls climbed to 74,697 persons averaging $41.74 for a total of $3,117,840. In September these figures were 71,974 persons averaging $38.02 for a total of $2,736,654 and in October a year ago 68,137 persons received $2,745,769, an average of $40.30.

Aid to dependent children dropped to 108,043 persons receiving $3,861,234 for an average of $35.78. In September 108,998 persons received $3,900,486, an average of $35.82, and in October 1956, 100,328 persons were granted $3,539,911 for an average of $35.33. The 1957 law requiring ADC mothers to take court action against non-supporting fathers as a condition for receiving aid was the major factor in the October decrease, according to Peter W. Cahill, IPAC executive secretary.

Old age assistance rolls totaled 85,361 persons receiving $5,746,993, an average of $67.68, compared to 85,632 recipients costing $5,725,804 for an average of $67.27. In October 1956 there were 89,816 recipients with expenditures of $5,552,145 averaging $62.15.

Blind assistance dropped to 3,340 recipients with expenditures of $240,401 averaging $72.30 compared to 3,359 in September costing $239,698 for an average of $71.70. A year ago there were 3,463 recipients at a total cost of $238,782 for a $69.03 average.

Disability assistance rolls, which also declined, totaled 13,233 at a cost of $1,073,732 averaging $81.75 compared to 13,238 in September costing $1,069,362 for an average of $81.44. In October 1956 there were 9,826 persons receiving $773,297 for an average grant of $79.01.

No Heavier Taxes

All of the evidence made available thus far in Washington indicates that there is no basis for forecasts emanating from a variety of sources that government spending will soar to spectacular heights and that heavier taxes will be required from the public.

These predictions are so at variance with official statements by Administration spokesmen—who certainly should know the facts—that many in Washington are wondering if they are not resulting from propaganda disseminated by New Dealers in the lower echelons of government service whose solution for any problem invariably is bigger and bigger spending.

What are the facts with respect to government spending? Thus far (obviously, the future could bring changes) official information adds up about like this:

There is expected to be moderate increases in some categories of defense spending, particularly for the missile and satellite programs.

But, at the same time, every effort is to be made to reduce other defense or non-defense spending that is found to be unessential or can be postponed.

Experts Say Many Drivers Have Faulty "Seeing" Habits

Most accidents occur under safe driving conditions.

Experts say this is because many drivers have faulty "seeing" habits; they do not correctly visualize traffic, so they make mistakes that result in accidents.

The obvious way to correct faulty seeing habits is to break down the driver's visual pattern into the following steps:

1. Aim high in steering. This is a simple driving aid. It requires only that the driver take an occasional look well ahead and at the center of the driving lane, he's in or intends to follow. This step helps to keep the car in the center of the lane. Many drivers tend to hug the left side of the lane. This is a faulty driving habit that can lead to sideswipes and head-on collisions.

2. Get the over-all traffic picture. Many drivers have a tendency to fix their eyes on the car ahead. This gives him a distortion of the general traffic pattern. Drivers should watch all objects for a block ahead in cities and towns and a half mile ahead on the highway. Of course, this includes the car just ahead, but it should be considered only a small part of the over-all picture.

3. Move your eyes. Don't focus your eyes on any part of the scene ahead for more than a few seconds, unless it has a particular bearing on handling the car.

4. Be sure the other driver sees you. Never assume that other cars will stay in the same relative position. It is highly important to anticipate what the other drivers will do—without prior warning to you. It is essential that you know where you are going to turn off from the main stream of traffic and to get into the proper lane, after giving appropriate signals to other drivers. In other words, anticipate your own moves; at the same time, look for the unexpected from other drivers.

5. Be sure you have a way out of an accident. Always keep adequate stopping distance between your car and the one ahead, or an escape route on at least one side.

How Important Are Rockets?

"Orbit"—In co-operation with the Illinois Institute of Technology—will present a 5-part series on the ever-more-important subject of "Rockets."

The first show—titled "Rockets: Propulsion"—will be presented on WBBM-TV, Sunday, January 5, from 10:30-11 A.M.

Host for the series will be Dr. Vincent J. Cushing, manager of the propulsion and fluid mechanics research department at IIT's Armour Research Foundation.

For the program on propulsion, Dr. Cushing will have as his guest Kenneth Jacobs, director of the engineering division of Chicago Midway Laboratories.

They'll outline the history of attempts at propulsion, using film to show rocket development, and will demonstrate propulsion principles. A highlight of the show will be a controlled propulsion experiment.

Future shows in the series will examine such subjects as fuels, materials, flight control, and the significance of rockets.

Miss Carol Bean Recent Bride of Chas. Maplethorpe

In a candlelight setting of Christmas greenery and bouquets of white chrysanthemums in the Antioch Methodist church on Sunday afternoon, December 15, the Rev. Howard C. Benson performed the double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Carol Bean, only daughter of Mrs. Lora Bean of Geneseo, Illinois, and Mr. Charles P. Maplethorpe, son of Mrs. Mary Maplethorpe of Littleton, Colorado.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her oldest brother, Mr. Herbert Bean of Dolton, Illinois, wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin with chapel train. The neckline of the gown was embroidered with pearls and had a standup ruffled collar in back. Her chapel-length veil was attached to an ivory-satin cap edged with pearls. A cascade of white Amazon lilies and stephanotis with satin streamers formed the bridal bouquet. The bride wore the groom's gift of pearl necklace and earrings.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Bean of Geneseo, Illinois, served as matron-of-honor. Her floor-length gown of iridescent emerald green taffeta and a scoop neckline with bow in front and a ruffle forming a bustle-effect in back. Her headpiece with small veil matched her gown. She carried a snowball of white carnations with red satin streamers and wore the bride's gift of pearl necklace and earrings and white gloves.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. James Maplethorpe, of Antioch, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Richard Scott of Sycamore, Illinois, friend of the bride, were given the same as the matron-of-honor. Their flowers were snowballs of tiny chrysanthemums.

Mr. James Maplethorpe of Antioch, brother of the bridegroom served as best man; and two friends from Antioch, Henry Glenn and William Setek were groomsmen. All the men in the wedding party were attired in midnight-blue tuxedos with white carnation boutonnières. The bridegroom wore white stephanotis from his bride's bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bean wore a maroon crepe dress, and the mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue faille dress. Both had corsages of white carnations.

William Bean of Geneseo, brother of the bride, sang "The Wedding Benediction" and "I Love Thee" before the ceremony. During the nuptial service the bride and groom knelt while the church choir sang "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. William Dow as organist. Mrs. Dow also played an organ prelude of nuptial music before the ceremony.

Christmas colors were used at the reception, which was held for about two hundred guests in Wesley hall in the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was adorned with silver candelabra and the four-tier wedding cake, which was decorated with white wedding bells and topped by two doves under an arch of flowers.

Mrs. Irving Elms cut the cake after the initial cut by the bride and groom. Mrs. Charles Watson and Mrs. Raymond Druce poured. Miss Betty Lu Williams presided at the guest book; and Miss Nancy Denby, Miss Nancy Scott, and Mrs. Onno Haak opened gifts. The Mesdames Kenneth Smouse, Warren Polley, Robert Irish and Norman Karr served during the reception. The waitresses wore white net aprons with Christmas trim, gifts of the bride.

The bride, who is Dean of Girls and Spanish teacher at Antioch High school, is a graduate of Geneseo High school and Illinois State Normal university. She has also done graduate work in Spanish at the University of Colorado. The bridegroom, who graduated from Antioch High School and attended Lake Forest College, is superintendent of the water department and chief deputy of the fire department in Antioch.

For traveling the bride wore an aqua wool jersey dress with black and white accessories and a muskrat jacket. After a honeymoon in Chicago the new Mr. and Mrs. Maplethorpe are at home at 1109 Bishop in Antioch.

(Editorial in the Chicago Tribune Christmas Day)

VIRGINIA STILL BELIEVES —

In 1897—60 years ago, Virginia O'Hanlon wrote the editor of the New York Sun, "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?" The reply was an editorial by Francis P. Church which became famous. "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," the editor wrote. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

Warning to his work the editor continued, "Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginia. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished."

That was the reply made to Virginia when she was 8 years old. This year someone has thought to look her up and ask her the question she once addressed to the editor. Now 68, the original Virginia—Mrs. Laura Virginia Douglas—is a widow and a school principal, ministering to the children of a Brooklyn school, all of whom are disabled and patients of hospitals and institutions.

Mrs. Douglas knows from the generous response of countless persons who seek to help her wards that the spirit of thoughtful kindness is as alive today as it was when an editor set about resolving her own misgivings.

"So much," she remarked of the children of her school, "is being done for them. The little ones believe in Santa, and all of them believe in the spirit of Christmas."

When her children, in spite of all handicaps, put on a Christmas program a few days ago, Mrs. Douglas was touched beyond all telling, especially when a little blind girl, a hospital patient all her life, sang "Silent Night."

"Is there a Santa Claus?" Mrs. Douglas was asked.

"The verities of the editorial are still as true as they ever were," she replied. "And my prayer is that all the world will believe them, not just part of the world."

So Virginia preaches the gospel that the editor preached to her, which should make it unanimous: Yes, there is a Santa Claus.

James M. Haswell, of the Chicago Daily News Service, reports that in the last three years military spending and foreign aid spending together have risen 6.7 per cent—while domestic spending has jumped 20.1 per cent.

One Mistake

One mistake is all it takes. Yes, just one behind the wheel of your car could take your life or the life of someone you love. Many victims of automobile tragedies die in their first traffic accident.

Ver Gregerson of Waukegan, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Call and daughter of Zion and Mr. and Mrs. Avery Leable and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Edwards were dinner guests on Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson. Other dinner guests were the Robert Taylor family. Afternoon guests were the Norman Edwards family of Deep Lake and the Ward Edwards family of Rockford.

Christmas Day supper guests at the Russell Doolittle-home were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bonner and family and Gordon Bonner of Millburn. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Finkel and sons, Robert and Gordon, were Christmas Day dinner guests at the Irving Rosenbloom home in Chicago.

Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Andy Magiera and sons, Mrs. Emil Hallwas and sons, and Mrs. Rod Ames and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leable spent Christmas Day at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Alverson, in Kenosha.

Mr. and Mrs. William Strahan and family of Antioch and Miss Lillian Strahan of Des Plaines spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John Strahan.

In a recent year, according to Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Folsom, Russian children graduating from the tenth grade had completed five years of physics, 4 of chemistry, 6 of foreign language, and 3 of mathematics above the arithmetic level. In the same year, less than a third of American high-school graduates had taken a year of chemistry; one in 4 had a year of physics; and but one in 15 had studied advanced mathematics. U. S. News & World Report, in an article on Soviet education, says the "Stress is on work, not 'life adjustment'."

The boys and parents of Pack 92 enjoyed a very nice Christmas party at the monthly pack meeting on Dec. 20. Before the flag ceremony, which was conducted by Den 3, was presented, the Cubs, coming from the two wings of the gymnasium of Antioch Grade School, took their places by candlelight.

The Dutch tradition of hiding something in a shoe was carried out. Each child giving in a shoe and finding it in the shoe scramble was agreeable to all the children, boys and girls.

Gifts were exchanged between Cubs and their parents. Each Den had different ideas and each boy made his own gift.

In place of one of the Dens presenting a skit, members of the Committee put on a pantomime of "The Night Before Christmas." Three of the Cubs, Billy Eckert, Wallie Henning, and Norman Van Rooyen graduated to Boy Scouts. The following received awards:

Bobcats—Jim Nausenda, Randy Rich, Steven Troyke.

Wolf Badges—Jeff Pachay, Wolf Arrows—Don Zeman, SA, Bill Gibson, 2 SA.

Bear Badges—Doug Hellstern, Joe Seitz, Bill Groeninger, GA, Bear Arrows—Bruce Dalgaard, GA and SA.

Lion Badge—Bruce Dalgaard, Jay Bruski, GA & SA, John Delaney, Webelos—Wally Henning, Norman Van Rooyen, Tony Badame.

Denner Stripes—Den 5—Kenny Nelson; Den 7—Donald Ford.

Year Pins—Doug Hellstern, Tim Proeme, Dan Bryllinke, Terry Harrison, Joe Seitz, Norman Van Rooyen, and Vince Cassella.

Mothers of Dens 3 and 4 supplied the refreshments and Mrs. Harry Smith was in charge. Slides of "Christmas in Other Countries" were shown to the boys.

C. F. Becker Named Asst. State Treasurer

Governor William G. Stratton named Conrad F. Becker of Red Bud, assistant state treasurer, to head the new Illinois Department of Financial Institutions. Becker will take office Jan. 1. The new department, created in the last general assembly as part of Governor Stratton's governmental reorganization program, will assume financial institution control and examination functions now held by the office of State Auditor and the Department of Insurance.

The small loan division of the insurance department will be transferred to the new agency effective July 1, 1958. At the same time the following divisions will be transferred from the auditor's office: Savings and loan, currency exchange, credit union, trusts, and cemetery care funds. Examination and control of state banks, scheduled to go into the new department, will be delayed pending necessary referendum approval of the required banking law change in the general election in November, 1958.

K.C.'s Attend Mass Together

Lake-Cook Supply Co. To Hold Annual Meet At Wauconda Jan. 9

The Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. will hold its annual meeting Thursday, Jan. 9, at the Federated church in Wauconda.

Earl Hughes of rural Woodstock, former assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, will be the main speaker and the 4-H clubs from Ivanhoe and Grayslake will furnish entertainment.

Directors will be elected during the afternoon. The session from 1 to 1:30 p. m. will be broadcast over WKRS, Waukegan.

The Lake-Cook Farm Supply Co. is a farmers' cooperative allied with the Farm Bureau.

Hunter's Cows Producers
Three cows, ages 10, 9 and 8 on the Ravenslen farm of Robert L. Hunter east of Antioch have had outstanding milk and butterfat producing records according to the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America. The oldest produced 20,980 pounds of milk and 709 pounds of butterfat within 365 days. A 4-year old cow belonging to Alfred H. Ames of Zion also was cited as a good producer.

Industry's annual outlay to create jobs in the U. S. is $10 billion.

Antioch Host.....

Warren. In the latter game Co-Capt. Art Hanke too, came through with nine field goals for a total of 18 points.

Besides putting up good games at their guard position both Behrens and Roach scored three field goals in both games.

Grant survived both her games in close scores, although not playing the quality of ball the Bulldogs played here last week, and will meet Warren in the final game tonight (Monday).

McHenry will play Woodstock in the consolation game at 7 p. m.

Berretter Assigned To South Pole Base As Navy Radioman

LITTLE-AMERICA FIVE, Antarctica (FHTNC)—Jan. A. Berretter, radioman third class, USN, son of Mrs. Joseph Klopp of Lake Marie, Antioch, Ill., is part of a group of Navy Seabees, fliers and civilian scientists who will man the U. S. scientific observation stations in Antarctica during 1958 and early 1959.

Volunteers with the Navy's "Operation Deepfreeze III", the group will be assigned to the seven U. S. scientific bases in the various remote sections of this frigid, unpredictable polar continent.

Movement of the wintering-over party from the U. S. is expected to be completed by the end of November. During the long Antarctic night, which will bring total darkness from April to August, the Seabees will assist the scientific group in conducting studies and collecting data in support of the International Geophysical Year 1958-59.

The buildings where they will live are made of prefabricated aluminum panels, insulated on the same principal as a refrigerator, but functioning in reverse. They will live in comfortable cubicles and sleep on foot-thick inner-spring mattresses.

For recreation they will have billiard tables, dozens of games, thousands of books and long playing records. There is even a pop corn popper.

The wintering-over group was trained in cold weather survival and construction procedure at Davisville, R. I., before departing for the Antarctic. They are expected to return to the U. S. in March 1959.

When he arrives at the South Pole he will be assigned to the Little America Five station as a radioman. Before entering the navy in January 1956, Berretter attended Antioch Township High School.

One industry spokesman anticipates that retail toy sales this year will reach $1,250,000,000—a new record, and 6.5 per cent above last year.

"Today's dollar seems built more for speed than endurance"—Joe W. Berry.

County Chess-Checker Tournament on Jan. 9 At Waukegan Center

The 1958 annual Lake County Championship chess and checker tournaments will begin on Thursday, Jan. 9. Play will be every Thursday evening throughout the winter months at the Elks Service Center, 150 S. Sheridan road, Waukegan.

Defending chess champion is Craig Henderson of Lindenhurst; the checker title holder is Gene Estes of Great Lakes.

The tournaments are open to all residents of Lake County. Entries may be made in person any Thursday evening, or by phoning the Waukegan Recreation Department, Ontario 2-7233 any day or evening. Deadline for entries is 8 p. m. Thursday, Jan. 9. The entry fee for either tournament is $1.00, plus a $1.00 forfeit fee to be returned upon completion of all games. The winner of the chess tournament will receive possession of the championship trophy for one year; other prizes will be announced later. The tournaments are sponsored by the Waukegan Playground and Recreation Board and by the Waukegan Chess and Checker Club.

LOVELACE RETURNS TO CALIFORNIA

Layden J. Lovelace, fireman, USN, son of Victor Lovelace of Antioch, returned to Long Beach, Calif., Dec. 14 aboard the destroyer USS Cushing after a tour of duty with the U. S. Pacific Fleet in the Far East.

During the cruise the Cushing participated in fast carrier task force operations and visited Kaohsiung, Formosa; Hong Kong; Olongapo, Luzon; P. I.; Yokosuka and Kobe, Japan.

Two recent news items are particularly interesting when considered together. In October, the Department of Commerce states, there was a $1 billion drop in the national rate of personal income, resulting from layoffs and reduced working hours. A short time ago the Federal Reserve Board eased its "tight money" policy by reducing the discount rate from 3½ to 3 per cent.

As the clock strikes twelve and the New Year arrives, we'd like to wish you, our friends and patrons, the very best the future offers. We're grateful for your loyalty and will continue to serve you in the best manner possible during the coming years. From all of us—a Happy New Year!

Revenue Service Begins 1958 Tax Filing Period

It will soon be time to file your Federal income tax return. Every resident of the United States, whether an adult or minor, who had $600 or more gross income in 1957 is required to file. If $5 or over by January 1, 1958, no return is required unless gross income was at least $1200. Those who had less income should file to obtain a refund of any tax withheld from their wages or salaries. H. Alan Long, Director of the Internal Revenue Service for this district, announced.

Returns should be filed as soon after January first as possible, but not later than April 15, 1958. Taxpayers of the 26 counties of northern Illinois should mail their returns to the District Director of Internal Revenue, 22 West Madison Street, Chicago 2, Illinois.

Self-employed persons must file an income tax return and pay self-employment tax if they have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, even though their gross income is less than $600.

The instruction booklet furnished with the tax forms should enable most taxpayers to prepare their own returns without too much difficulty. Mr. Long explained. However, the Internal Revenue Service will offer assistance at local field offices from January 20 through April 15, 1958. Self-help will again be stressed as the basic theme of taxpayer assistance.

"The self-help program has now been in effect about three years," Mr. Long said, "and we believe that more and more taxpayers are becoming familiar with the requirements for sound preparation of Federal income tax returns."

"Essentially, self-help means that the taxpayers complete as much of their returns as possible before asking help from us. Most taxpayers can do the whole job after careful reading of the form itself, and its accompanying booklet."

"We are still going to provide help to those who actually need it, and we will again stress our telephone assistance program, which will enable taxpayers with a problem or two to call us up for a quick answer, designed to complete preparation of their returns."

"Office assistance will be available where required, but will naturally entail considerably more of the taxpayer's time," Mr. Long added.

If in need of assistance, you may call at 325 Washington St., Waukegan, Ill.

From Dorothy Thompson's column: "The common man—the average man—has never yet created what he enjoys, and this is more than ever true in the age of science and technology, which depends on men 'who can call down fire from heaven'. What we need and our education must produce if we are to survive are uncommon men."

A study of traffic accidents which occurred last Christmas season and claimed 609 lives shows that drunk driving was a factor in 55 per cent.

Today's MEDITATION

The World's Most Widely Used
Devotional Guide

The Upper Room

A new feature has been added for our readers. Each week you will be invited to share in a meditation with a Scripture reading, prayer and thought for the day.

Read Psalm 150
Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise. (Matthew 21:16)

A small boy five years of age attended Sunday school for the first time. Returning home he excitedly showed his mother a card on which was a picture of the Saviour as the good Shepherd. Underneath were the words, "God is love."

His mother asked the child what was written, and what the teacher said about it. The child thought for a moment and then replied, "I think, Mummy, teacher said it was 'God has sent his love to you.'"

That was exactly what God did when He sent His Son to proclaim the great fact that God was a loving Father. Through Jesus, God sent His love to everyone on earth. In Jesus we see the condescension of almighty Love "fitting His stature to our need" that He might lift us up to His heaven.

St. Augustine once wrote about God's love for the individual: "Thou carest for every one of us; as if thou carest for him only; and so for all as if there was but one."

Prayer
Thanks be to Thee, O God, that nothing in this world can separate us from Thy love. Neither death nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers—nothing is able to separate us from Thy love, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord. Amen.

Thought for the Day

ECONOMY TV TOPICS

(By Harold "Pete" Peterson)
I guess everyone seen snow or ghosts on their television screen from time to time; it being caused by extreme weather conditions. However, if the trouble continues regularly without bad weather, it can be corrected.
Actually, it is a sign of a weak signal from your antenna. In the case of "snow" it's electronic noise in the set caused by the weak signal from the antenna. Ghosts are caused by your antenna picking-up the signal the second time as it reflects off buildings, hills or other obstacles. In both cases antenna servicing can generally correct the trouble.
Economy TV on Rt. 173 1 1/2 miles West of Antioch has stocked the latest equipment for reducing this kind of trouble to almost nil. Phone Antioch 1454 and let us explain why it is important for your TV set to receive the best signal for the best reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Imrie and children, Betty and Richard of Lyons were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Imrie.

Miss Harriet Krautkramer spent the week-end with the Clifford Rendall family at Antioch.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Scott and Grandma Ellis of Waukegan called on Mr. and Mrs. Byron Patrick on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Selzer of Northbrook.

Little Johnnie Hay, year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hay stumbled and fell in his home last Friday and cut his mouth so it required three stitches. He is recovering nicely, his mother reports.

Santa arrived last Saturday. The Jolly old gentleman rode in a parade all through Lindenhurst before going to the men's club to distribute candy and gifts to all the children of Lindenhurst under the age of twelve. Upon arriving at the clubhouse he was met by the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Westberg playing "Jingle Bells," so Santa proceeded to dance about with the small children. It was estimated there were about 300 children present.

ILLINOIS TAX FACTS

A novel idea of a Christmas present for the employer came across our desk recently, and we wish to pass it along. Maybe it will help the employer have a little extra with which to pay his taxes.

To meet increased competition and a keen desire of business to remain solvent, drastic action is needed on the part of employees. This action simply requires all employees to set aside each day; somewhere between starting and quitting time, a period to be known as the "WORK BREAK."

Of course, it is understood that this period will not infringe too much on the time usually devoted to lunch periods, coffee breaks, rest periods, story telling, ticket selling, vacation planning, and the reharsing of yesterday's TV programs.

This may seem a radical innovation, but, even so, the idea has great possibilities. It can conceivably be an aid to steady employment in addition to being a means of assuring regular pay checks and solvent businesses.

Anyway, along with the idea we wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Evenings to Kill
Yawning widely, George struggled up out of his easy chair and switched off the TV set.

"Bored, or just sleepy, or both?" Molly asked with a smile.

"Well, maybe a little of each, I guess. But—believe it or not I was mostly thinking!"

"Not about that dull program, I hope!"

"No. I just got to wondering what we used to do of evenings before television came along."

Molly reflected for a moment. "Well, for one thing, I used to get a lot of sewing done—at least darning and mending. What about you?"

George laughed. "Seems funny now. But we used to have some good conversation, you and I, even when the radio was playing music."

"The radio? Even before TV came along, we killed our evenings with that..." By the way, have we read any good books lately?"

Three Cent Increase To Dairy Farmers for December Deliveries

Chicago—Order 41, Chicago Market dairy farmers should receive about 3 cents per hundredweight more than the announced blend price for their December milk deliveries according to Harry L. Edwards, Director of Sales for Pure Milk Association. This added money will be included in milk checks they receive about the middle of January.

Edwards says this additional premium on all December milk will result from an increase in Class I milk prices negotiated by Pure Milk Association last September, and which has been effective already on payments for October and November milk deliveries.

The Association negotiated for a $4.15 Class I price for the five-month period, October through February. This price resulted in milk dealers paying 14c per hundredweight more than the computed Federal Order Class I price on milk going into bottles during October, nine cents per hundredweight more during November, and 28c per hundredweight premium payment on all of their November milk.

The federal Milk Market administrator recently announced a computed blend price of 3.72 for 3.5 per cent milk delivered during November to milk dealers' plants located within a 55 to 70-mile radius of Chicago.

Edwards concluded that the negotiated premium should return Order 41 dairy farmers an additional premium of 12-14 cents per hundredweight, above the computed Federal Order blend price on all of their milk deliveries in January and February.

The New Snow Gave Children Something To Do During Vacation

Holiday vacation gave opportunity to this group of children to build a fort with the new snow that fell this last weekend. The children reside in the Haber subdivision and, left to right, seated — Laura Ofstedahl and Sandy Davis; standing — James Polley, Joseph, Carol, and Linda Seitz, (inside the fort) Bonny and Judy VanPatten, a guest, and Mary Jane Jensen.

BETTER SCHOOLS — AND YOU

by HENRY TOY, Jr., President
National Citizens Council for Better Schools

EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN—AND THE GREAT "MIDDLE GROUP"

Did you ever give a party for a group of strangers who didn't have very much in common? There were the very shy who had to be urged to join in the fun, and the aggressive kind who had to be toned down a little so they didn't run away with the thing. That left the big group in the middle with whom you didn't have much time to circulate.

Well, that's sort of the problem facing most school teachers. There are the slower students who need constant reassurance and help so they can't lose interest and so they can follow what's going on. There are the truly gifted who, if they had their way, would answer every question and hurry on to the next lesson. And there's the great middle group who sometimes seem to kind of float by themselves while the teacher is running back and forth between the two exceptional groups. I've often wondered to myself which group is really the handicapped.

How to solve this problem of the three groups—and the variations within those groups—is a question occupying more and more people these days. The need for skilled professionals and leaders is putting more emphasis on the education of the gifted, while the humanitarians emphasize educating the physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped. Others remind us that democratic principles dictate we can't neglect the majority.

Some communities are establishing special classes and, in some cases, special schools for each group. That way, say their advocates, the children study with their peers and are grouped together according to their abilities.

The opposite point of view says this isn't realistic because the children will never again find this artificial grouping in real life.

In Denver, a new experiment has started, which might be one way to solve this problem. There they are testing the third and fourth graders to find out which ones have true intellectual ability. Those who turn out to have it are then going to be given special work and, by the time they get to the last year of high school, they'll get a full year of college work.

It's been said that all children think their parents are retarded and all parents think their children are gifted. But I don't think this quip is as true as it used to be. Parents, it seems to me, are becoming more realistic about their children's abilities and they want to find out early whether they should be urging their children to try for college or help them find a curriculum in high school better suited to their talents.

There is quite a bit of information available these days on "exceptional" children. If you'd like to see some of it, write the words "exceptional children" on a postcard and send it to Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 16, New York.

60 Degree Temperature Required for Eggs Now

Compliance with the new "60 degree temperature" regulation of the state egg law is demanded of egg dealers by the Illinois Department of Agriculture. Eggs must be kept at 60 degrees or below from the point where they are candled or graded for retail sale until they reach the consumer.

Eleven department inspectors are checking egg outlets and may issue "stop sale" notices which prevent violators from selling, transferring or destroying eggs not meeting all requirements of the law. Fines run from a minimum of $115 to a $200 maximum.

The temperature control regulation was advocated by the poultry and egg industry to upgrade Illinois eggs and prevent Illinois from becoming a dumping ground for low quality eggs from other states.

Keep Cars Filled With Gas For Emergencies

Winter motorists should keep their cars filled with gas at all times in anticipation of delayed traffic on snow-covered, foggy or icy roads, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department.

Tying up traffic which is already bumper to bumper by running out of gas is one of the most frustrating experiences of winter driving, and use tire chains when necessary, Sielski said. Besides keeping tanks filled, he said motorists should adopt a complete new set of winter driving rules.

Not only should the car be driven slower than under normal conditions, but the motions performed by the driver should be slower, Sielski said. To avoid skidding, slow, smooth, steady motions and pressures should be applied to the accelerator and brake pedals, gear shift, and steering wheel.

All roads should be tested in winter for slipperiness by gently pumping the brake pedal. Motorists should keep all windows clean for proper vision, follow cars with adequate stopping distance in between, Sielski said.

Chamber of Com. To Hold Banquet at Ruralite on Jan. 18

Members and Wives to At- tend Lions Club Dance After the Banquet

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce will have its annual banquet and installation of officers at 7 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 18 at the Ruralite.

The event will honor Oscar I. Onstad, retiring president, who will give a report of the activities of the chamber during 1957 and introduce his committee chairmen.

Bernard Osmond, newly elected president, will announce his committee appointments and outline the program of work during the coming year.

Wives of the members are invited and all will be urged at the close of the banquet to attend the Lions Club dance which will be held that night at the Barnstable building on Main street (formerly the National Food Store).

Antioch at Wauconda, Mooseheart Here Sat.; Batavia Wins Tourney

Large Crowd Sees Guests Win From Sequoits 47-39; Grant Loses 2

Antioch High's basketball team will resume conference play Friday in a trek to Wauconda where it will meet the Bulldogs for the first time this season.

Big problem for the Sequoits will be to stop Dennis Freund, Wauconda scoring ace, who is one of the top point-makers in Lake county. As goes Freund, so go the Bulldogs. Mooseheart will play here Saturday night.

The Sequoits have great respect for Batavia, which after humbling Grant High 58 to 45 at Batavia Friday night in the first round of four-team tournament came to Antioch Saturday night and won from the local team 47 to 39.

Antioch won the right to play Batavia in the final game here by winning from Mooseheart at Batavia 68 to 46. This team will come here Saturday evening for a return game with the Sequoits and this time a harder fought battle is expected.

The Mooseheart team is not a weak one as the large crowd saw Saturday night when it defeated Grant in the consolation preliminary 63 to 59. Grant has won from Antioch this season, and is a top team in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

It was from the free throw line that Batavia won from Antioch in the tournament final Saturday. The Sequoits outscored their opponents from the field but fouled heavily, giving Batavia opportunity to pitch 15 free throws of 22 attempts. Antioch made five of her 10 attempts.

The Sequoits started out strong and closed the quarter 12 to 7. By the mid-time the visitors evened the score 20-all. Harris, the Batavia forward started swishing the nets, and the guests were soon out in front.

Plan Active Program At Methodist Church

A group has been formed at the Antioch Methodist church which will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesdays to read and discuss the Gospel of Mark under the leadership of the Rev. Howard Benson.

A class in preparation for membership in the church is being opened to all seventh and eighth grade youth, and the first meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the church.

The Membership and Evangelism commission headed by Mrs. Kenneth Smouse and Mrs. Onno Haak will conduct a visitation for three Sundays starting at 2 p. m.

A discussion series for adults will begin at 9:30 a. m. Sunday in the old building of the Antioch Grade school and continue for six Sundays.

The courses are "The American Teen-ager," led by Frank Denison, counselor of Antioch Township High School; "The Church in the Making," led by Ferdinand Lagerholm, superintendent of the Antioch Church School Adult Department; and "Man's Need and God's Action," led by Douglas Frazer, minister of youth.

Warning on Parking

Police Chief Walter I. Scott has issued a warning to car owners that the ordinance prohibiting all-night parking from Nov. 15 to April 1 will be enforced. This ordinance says it is unlawful for the owner or operator of any vehicle to park said vehicle on any street in the village after midnight and before 7 a. m. during the winter months. The reason for this law is to give street employees opportunity to remove snow unhindered. The ordinance also applies at any time after snow begins to fall for a period of eight hours after the snow stops falling. Violation of this ordinance carries a fine of from $5 to $200.

High School Board To Ask Third Time For Tax Increase

The Antioch Township High School Board of Education, at a meeting Wednesday evening, decided to go ahead with a request for a 15c increase in the educational tax fund. This will be the third request for the increase.

Mr. Bruce Trester, Executive Secretary for the Lake County Civic League, and the board discussed the problem but couldn't agree on a decision concerning the state multiplier, a figure set up by the state to equalize property taxes. If the multiplier is increased the school district will automatically get an increase in revenue. It is not known at the present time if there will be an increase and there is a possibility that there could be a decrease in the multiplier.

High School Seniors Form Loan Association As a Means of Learning Banking Practices

Antioch High School seniors who have been taking part in the banking lecture series each week have formed a loan association.

The organization was first formed to show the students some of the basic operations of a loan department of a commercial bank. The association is governed by a seven member board which was elected by the senior class. The duties of this board are to set basic operating policy, consider loan applications, and report financial progress of the association to the lecture group.

The beginning finances necessary for the association to start were loaned to the seniors by the business men sponsoring the lecture series. This capital investment will be returned to the businessmen at the end of the lecture series. In the meantime the loan association is accepting and approving small loans.

The board approved loans totaling $125. The students may borrow up to $10, and can keep the loan for a maximum of six weeks. Interest rates set up by the board were 1% per week for all loans over $5, and 2% per week on loans less than $5, with a 10 cents minimum charge. This means that a student may borrow $10 for a period of six weeks for 60 cents. The most common reasons given by those students that have borrowed thus far were: to attend Christmas dance, to Christmas shop, and to buy clothing.

The purpose of the loan association was not to provide loans to students primarily, but rather its purpose was to create a situation for learning. The businessmen have used the association's operation to illustrate the parallel between the working of the association board of directors and that of a bank board of directors. The Consumer Economics class had the experience of drawing up an application form to be used by the students in applying for loans. This class, also, designed the notices to be sent to the borrowers when their loans are due.

The bookkeeping class decided what type of books and accounts should be used in recording the transactions of this loan association. The funds are kept in the bank thus the students have the experience of opening a bank account, writing checks, making deposits, and reconciling the bank statement.

The student board is made up of the following seniors: Board president—Frank Ferdon; Board secretary—Cathy Arndt; Board bookkeeper—Judy Zellbor; Bill Hart, David Mitchell, Karen Rentner, and Bob Wertz. The board is under the direction of Mr. Lear of the Business Education department and Businessmen William E. Brook and Atty. Ted Larson.

Clarence Pyles, 43, of Oak Lane Dr., Antioch, was seriously injured early Wednesday in a crash of his automobile on Rte. 45 west of Rte. 21 west of Half Day.

He was taken to Condell Memorial hospital suffering from broken left ribs and cuts on his face and hands.

Sheriff's deputies Clair Ianson and Roman Lenzen reported that Pyles' car struck a patch of ice and skidded off the highway, turned over several times, left the ground for a distance of 36 feet and rammed into a tree.

Pyles was pinned inside his car and was pulled from the demolished vehicle by Floyd Hunt, 113 E. Grand Ave., Fox Lake, and Michael Sidjlo, 708 Cedarwood road, Round Lake.

The deputies said there were 253 feet of skid marks in the snow and ice.

Firemen Will Get Radio Alarm Sets For Fire Alarms

$6,000 System to Operate From Telephone Answering Service

Village trustees Tuesday evening voted an expenditure of $1,500 on a $6,000 project of the Antioch Volunteer fire department to provide home radio alarm equipment for 25 of the Antioch firemen.

This amount will be matched by the fire district outside of Antioch, making a total of $3,000, which in turn will be matched by the Fire Department to make the grand total of $6,000.

Chief Edgar Simonsen told the trustees that the firemen hope to add 10 more sets later so that all members of the department will have equipment.

Simonsen explained that the system calls for a master radio control set costing $870 which will be placed at the Telephone Answering Service, 510 Lake street. A receiving set costing $197 will be placed in the home of each fireman.

When an alarm comes in, the person at the Answering Service will broadcast a signal that will turn on an alarm in each set. Then she will give the location of the fire.

At the same time she will operate a large siren at the fire station.

The radio alarm system, Simonsen explained, is to supplement the siren alarm. During the winter when doors and windows are closed tightly and the wind is blowing in opposite direction it is impossible to hear the large siren.

Sets Are Portable
The individual sets are portable and should a fireman go to the home of another person he can plug the set in an electric socket there and be all set for the emergency call, Simonsen said.

The sets may be adjusted to receive police calls which are on a different wave band.

The fire chief said that he hopes through this private alarm system, use of the large siren can be dispensed with between midnight and 7 a. m. This alarm disturbs the sleep of many people.

Just when the new system will be installed Simonsen could not say, but he expects to have it ready by early spring.

The village trustees said that since no appropriation was made for this purchase this year, the $1,500 would exceed the emergency fund, but that by the time the radios were installed a new fiscal year will have started and the total amount will be available.

Fire Chief Simonsen reports that during December there were five fire calls. Two were grass fires, one a car fire, one a gas furnace fire (continued on page 7)

Three Cent Increase To Dairy Farmers for December Deliveries

Chicago—Order 41, Chicago Market dairy farmers should receive about 3 cents per hundredweight more than the announced blend price for their December milk deliveries according to Harry L. Edwards, Director of Sales for Pure Milk Association. This added money will be included in milk checks they receive about the middle of January.

Edwards says this additional premium on all December milk will result from an increase in Class I milk prices negotiated by Pure Milk Association last September, and which has been effective already on payments for October and November milk deliveries.

The Association negotiated for a $4.15 Class I price for the five-month period, October through February. This price resulted in milk dealers paying 14c per hundredweight more than the computed Federal Order Class I price on milk going into bottles during October, nine cents per hundredweight more during November, and 28c per hundredweight premium payment on all of their November milk.

The federal Milk Market administrator recently announced a computed blend price of 3.72 for 3.5 per cent milk delivered during November to milk dealers' plants located within a 55 to 70-mile radius of Chicago.

Edwards concluded that the negotiated premium should return Order 41 dairy farmers an additional premium of 12-14 cents per hundredweight, above the computed Federal Order blend price on all of their milk deliveries in January and February.

BETTER SCHOOLS — AND YOU

EXCEPTIONAL CHILDREN—AND THE GREAT "MIDDLE GROUP"

Did you ever give a party for a group of strangers who didn't have very much in common? There were the very shy who had to be urged to join in the fun, and the aggressive kind who had to be toned down a little so they didn't run away with the thing. That left the big group in the middle with whom you didn't have much time to circulate.

Well, that's sort of the problem facing most school teachers. There are the slower students who need constant reassurance and help so they don't lose interest and so they can follow what's going on. There are the truly gifted who, if they had their way, would answer every question and hurry on to the next lesson. And there's the great middle group who sometimes seem to kind of float by themselves while the teacher is running back and forth between the two exceptional groups. I've often wondered to myself which group is really the handicapped.

How to solve this problem of the three groups—and the variations within those groups—is a question occupying more and more people these days. The need for skilled professionals and leaders is putting more emphasis on the education of the gifted, while the humanitarians emphasize educating the physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped. Others remind us that democratic principles dictate we can't neglect the majority.

Some communities are establishing special classes and, in some cases, special schools for each group. That way, say their advocates, the children study with their peers and are grouped

60 Degree Temperature Required for Eggs Now

Compliance with the new "60 degree temperature" regulation of the state egg law is demanded of egg dealers by the Illinois Department of Agriculture. Eggs must be kept at 60 degrees or below from the point where they are candled or graded for retail sale until they reach the consumer.

Eleven department inspectors are checking egg outlets and may issue "stop sale" notices which prevent violators from selling, transferring or destroying eggs not meeting all requirements of the law. Fines run from a minimum of $115 to a $200 maximum.

The temperature control regulation was advocated by the poultry and egg industry to upgrade Illinois eggs and prevent Illinois from becoming a dumping ground for low quality eggs from other states.

Keep Cars Filled With Gas For Emergencies

Winter motorists should keep their cars filled with gas at all times in anticipation of delayed traffic on snow-covered, foggy or icy roads, according to Matthew C. Sielski, director of the Chicago Motor Club's Safety and Traffic Engineering Department.

Tying up traffic which is already bumper to bumper by running out of gas is one of the most frustrating experiences of winter driving, and use tire chains when necessary, Sielski said. Besides keeping tanks filled, he said motorists should adopt a complete new set of winter driving rules.

Not only should the car be driven slower than under normal conditions, but the motions performed by the driver should be slower, Sielski said. To avoid skidding, slow, smooth, steady motions and pressures should be applied to the accelerator and brake pedals, gear shift, and steering wheel.

All roads should be tested in winter for slipperiness by gently pumping the brake pedal. Motorists should keep all windows clean for proper vision, follow cars with adequate stopping distance in between, Sielski said.
